Once in a little crossroads store in Georgia an old dorky came shuffling in.

"Hello, Uncle Mose," the proprietor greeted him. "I hear you got converted at last at the camp meeting and have given up drinking and other bad habits."

"Yes, sah; ah have seed de error ob mah ways an' turn around an' headed fer de better path," Uncle Mose declared, fervently.

"Well, you deserve a great deal of credit for that, Uncle Mose," the merchant said, approvingly.

"Yes, sah; thank you, sah," Uncle Mose exclaimed, delightedly. "dat's jes what ah thought, an' ah 'lowed sh'd come in here an' get you all to gib me credit for some 'bacco an' meal."

THE BABY'S MEDICINE.

The mistress of the home had been to a concert, and when she returned was met by the servant with: "Baby was very ill while you were out, mum."

"Oh, dear!" said Mrs. Youngwife. "Is he better?"

"Oh, yes, mum; he's all right now, but he was bad at first. I found his medicine in the cupboard."

"Good gracious!" cried the mistress, who given the child there's no medicine in the cupboard."

"Oh, yes, there is," it's written on it, and then the girl's prominently produced a bottle labeled "B.B. Reviver."

NO, JOHN, THERE ARE NO CANNIBALS THERE

John Atkins, of Honolulu, is either somewhat of a joker or is so ignorant that he is incapable of comprehending the greatness of the State of California without being "shown." In a letter to State Horticultural Commissioner J. W. Jeffrey, he asks if they raise fruit in California as they do in Los Angeles, and if the country north of San Francisco is inhabited or still wild, and what the tribes inhabiting other sections of the State besides Los Angeles are called.

Atkins says he intends coming here and wants a little advance information on what is over here. He asks about other places besides Los Angeles and if they are of any importance, furthermore, if the land on the map not designated as the southern metropolis is all pasture land or not. If the country northwest of San Francisco is not too wild he would like to go there.

The correspondent wants literature on California and especially Los Angeles, which he believes is the only settled part of the State.—Los Angeles Exch.

"The Spoilers" Tomorrow.

The last performance of "The House of a Thousand Candles" will be given tonight. This play has given the best of satisfaction and the company play the parts well. "The Spoilers" will be seen at the opera-house tomorrow evening, and is said to be a real dramatic treat. It tells a story of hearty good fellowship, hard knocks, and all that goes to make life real in Alaska. Rex Beach, that popular author, jumped immediately in the line of success when he wrote his story, "The Spoilers." Mr. Henry McRae has given the play an excellent production.

Park Theater.

Walter Stanton, he of the rooster act, presented at the Park and the Opera-house some months ago, is now playing in the Auditorium in Chicago and is considered the biggest hit ever in the "Windy City." With the Chanticleer as a foil in London and Paris Stanton's rooster act comes in play and he has been engaged for the production in New York. A copy of the song "Cook-a-doodle-doo" from the Chanticleer, has been received by Mr. Congdon and the orchestra at the Park will play it Thursday night. A biograph company production of scenes from the life of Oliver Cromwell will be the feature film at the Park tonight and Miss Alva will do her acrobatic song and dance.

THE HAWAIIAN WOLF.

The following appeared in a recent issue of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, during the slimmers' convulse in that city:

"Notre Charles F. Murray of Aloha Temple, Honolulu, owns a big Hawaiian fruit ranch and has enough of worldly goods to keep the wolf away from his Hawaiian mansion for the remainder of what promises to be a long and merry wharf of existence."

COUNTY MAY SEND CASES TO PALAMA

The demand of the Maternity Home for an extra fifty cents per hospital day for all county patients was formally brought to the attention of the board of supervisors last night. The board has been paying at the rate of two dollars per hospital day, but a short time ago the hospital authorities notified the solons that more money must be forth coming. The money came not forth and Monday a communication was sent to County Physician Mackall, informing him that no more county cases would be accepted until the board saw fit to pounce up.

Last night the board passed the matter up to the sanitation and health committee. The committee will probably arrange a meeting with the authorities of the home and see what sort of an arrangement can be arrived at.

As a matter of fact the board simply will not pay the two and a half demanded, and should the home stick by its demands, arrangements will be made to have county maternity cases cared for elsewhere. Just what arrangements will be made has not been announced, but it is understood that the Palama Hospital will take care of the county business at the rate which has heretofore been in force at the Maternity Home.

When the officers of the Maternity Home first went to the board for assistance they asked a flat contribution of $150 a month, for which they promised to handle all of the city's cases. The board was averse to the flat rate business, however, and arranged instead to pay $1.50 a hospital day for each patient. That arrangement was apparently satisfactory to all concerned.

But last winter the Home people decided that they were not getting enough money and they made a demand for two dollars. The matter was brought up before the board, the county physician hastily agreeing that two dollars seemed to be a fair rate. Thus the increase was granted.

But now the Home has demanded another fifty cents raise and the board has decided that it is time to call a halt. The cases heretofore will probably go to the Palama Hospital.

MARSTON CAMPBELL GOES TO HAWAII

Land Commissioner Marston Campbell left yesterday on the Mauna Kea for Hawaii, en route to Waialua, where he may reside at the sale of the Kamaoa lots. The sale, however, may not come off as per schedule. Mr. Campbell stated before he left that he would put the lots up at auction if the Waialua people insisted, but if they were willing to wait until the bill for the amendment of the Organic Act passes congress, it would be to their advantage, as under the provisions of the amendments those who have lived on their lots since 1900 will be able to get them without having to enter into competition with others.

Governor Frear and Marston Campbell may go to Waialua next month.

PRISONER ESCAPED FROM MANOA GANG

Shortly after eight o'clock yesterday morning Sam Kahi, a county prisoner, escaped from the gang working on the Manoa pass, after having robbed the man of a Japanese employed at the Division dairy.

Kahi is a Waialua boy, who was arrested during his minority for larceny. He was sent to the reform school from which he twice escaped. Since coming out of the reformatory he has run afoul of the police and is now under a long sentence. He has been a trustee on occasions, driving the working gangs' wagons. Recently he was denied the trust's privileges and confined in a dark cell. Last week he was put out with a gang, but not as driver, but as assistant to the driver. The wagon was driven past the cooking camp of the workmen yesterday morning. Kahi went through the dairy grounds and then quietly slipped into the servants' quarters while the employees were absent.

The prisoner turned everything topsy-turvy, opening a trunk and pulling out the drawers of a chest. He found 57 bits of evidence, a bundle of torn cloth pieces in the center of which was a gun in gold. The boy's parents live on Kahi street. The robbery of the servant's room will give the young fellow a capital of years' imprisonment at hard labor in jail.
